Allegation/Relationship

Alleged Perpetrator: EICKMEIER, JULIA
Alleged Victim: Kramer, Madeline
Relationship: Mother
Allegation: 10a- Substantial Risk of Physical Injury/Environment Injurious to Health and Welfare – Incidents of Violence or Intimidation
Allegation Finding: Unfounded

Evidence suggesting an incident occurred and that the alleged perpetrator is responsible:

Reporter responded to a domestic dispute call at Julia's home from Source. Source said he went to the home to pick Madeline up for his visit when Julia "flipped out". As

██████ was holding Madeline, Julia threw a bag of toys across the yard. Madeline was crying so ██████ put her down to pick up the toys. Julia ran over and picked Madeline up. Julia then pushed ██████ while she was holding Madeline. Julia refused to allow ██████ to take Madeline for his visit.

██████ reports that the incident upset Madeline and she was crying. ██████ indicates Julia pushed him while she was holding Madeline. State's Attorney has filed charges for battery.

Evidence suggesting an incident did not occur or that the alleged perpetrator is not responsible:

Julia reports she tossed toys in the yard because ██████ was standing in road with Madeline and would not get out of road despite being asked to and it was unsafe for Madeline. She reports she asked ██████ to leave multiple times and he would not and blocked her entrance to her trailer. She denies she pushed ██████. Child was not injured. Police did not arrest Julia.

Allegation Rationale:

Substantial Risk of Physical Injury/ Environment Injurious to Health and Welfare is recommended unfounded. Madeline was not injured. Julia denies she pushed Kevin. Police did not arrest Julia.

According to Rules and Procedures 300, the definition of Substantial Risk of Physical Injury is that "the parent, caregiver, immediate family member, other person residing in the home or the parent's paramour, has created a REAL AND SIGNIFICANT DANGER of physical injury which would likely cause disfigurement, death or impairment of physical health or loss or impairment of bodily functions.

This allegation of harm is to be used when the type or extent of harm is undefined but the total circumstances would lead a reasonable person to believe that the child is in substantial risk of physical injury. This allegation also includes incidents of violence or intimidation directed toward the child which have not yet resulted in injury or impairment but which clearly threaten such injury or impairment (Abuse) or placing a child in an environment which is injurious to their health and welfare (neglect).

Supervisory- Per CPI this was a GFA, no one was home. CPI will leave contact information. CPI to follow up. The dad was spoken to and he reports Julia was the one holding the minor when she pushed him. The dad seems delayed in his responses. The dad said he did have it planned to go to an event for music that he was involved in and the minor would have been with a babysitter if he was gone during this visitation time.

Cerap- Per CPI the mom denied she pushed the dad. She said they were in the road by his car because he was taking the minor for a visit. The mom learned he was going to be performing in a music performance and she said the minor would be running on stage and be watched by a disabled person so she didn't want him taking her. She cited first right refusal. They went by her trailer and he tried to keep her out of the trailer by blocking the door. She said she did throw the bag of toys when they were by the road. The dad was holding her when the toys were thrown but then she had the minor. The minor is currently safe in the care of the mom. Cerap is safe.

Final supervision- This case was reported on allegation #10a by mom to 3yo. The mom and dad engaged in a domestic. The mom took a bag of toys from the dad and threw them in the yard. The dad was holding the minor when the mom threw the toys. The minor was not injured. He alleged the mom pushed him but she denied this. The police were called and no arrested were made but the report was sent to the ASA who filed battery charges. CPI obtained the police report. The mom has first right of refusal for visitation as she was no satisfied with the dad working while he was going to have the minor. The collateral reported no concerns regarding the mom's parenting. Physician reported no concerns and was recently see, waiver approved as CPI spoke to the nurse. No school involvement de to minor age. N/A approved for treating physician. There is insufficient evidence to support the allegation therefore Psa concurs with recommended UNFOUNDED finding.

NOTIFICATION OF A SUSPECTED CHILD ABUSE AND/OR NEGLECT DOCUMENT

Name: EICKMEIER, JULIA
Address: 2830 4th St Tlr 13
Peru, IL 61354-3171

Date: 05/09/2016
SCR No: 2242999-A

The Department of Children and Family Services has received a report of suspected abuse and/or neglect of the following children:

Kramer, Madeline

The reported abuse or neglect is alleged to have involved the following acts/omissions (allegations):

Substantial Risk of Physical Injury/Environment Injurious to Health and Welfare – Incidents of Violence or Intimidation

The purpose of the Department's investigation is to keep children safe. In most cases where child abuse or neglect are found, the Department will try to help families to improve their ability to protect children. This often involves obtaining social and other services for the family. In addition to obtaining services, the Department has the authority to take protective custody of children, if necessary to keep children safe, and may also involve the police and Juvenile Court.

You need to know:

THE INVESTIGATIVE PROCESS

1. The Department is required by a law called the Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act, 325 ILCS 5/1 et seq., to conduct investigations into allegations of child abuse and neglect.
2. Within 60 days of the date of the report, unless there is good cause to take more time, the Department must complete its investigation.
3. During the course of the investigation, an investigator is required to interview certain witnesses, depending on the type of child abuse and neglect that is alleged and to request an interview with you as part of the investigation into these allegations.
4. You can refuse to be interviewed, however, if you refuse, your refusal could affect the outcome of the investigation and could be used against you.
5. You can give the investigator the names of other people who know what happened or who may have information about what happened. The investigator will contact at least two of these people.
6. The investigator will give you a brochure that more thoroughly explains the Department's investigative process. Department rules and further information can be found on the Department's website at www.state.il.us/dcfs.

RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION

An investigation can result in an indicated report or an unfounded report. A report is indicated if the Department concludes that the incident of child abuse and/or neglect occurred. A report is unfounded if the Department concludes that the incident of child abuse and/or neglect did not occur. If a report is indicated, the Department also makes a determination after consideration of all of the facts, as to whether a specific individual is responsible for the alleged child abuse or neglect.

You will be notified in writing of the outcome of the investigation and will have the right to appeal any indicated report if you are found to be responsible for the abuse or neglect.

STATE CENTRAL REGISTER

1. The Law. The Department of Children and Family Services is required by law to maintain a State Central Register of all reports of suspected child abuse or neglect, as well as the outcome of the investigation of these reports. The outcome of the investigation may include a determination that a specific person abused or neglected a child, or was responsible for the abuse or neglect. The law that governs this process is in the Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act, 325 ILCS 5/1.
2. Length of Time on Register.
 - a. If you are indicated as the perpetrator of child abuse and/or neglect, your name will be placed on the State Central Register, unless the report is removed as a result of your appeal. Your name will remain on the State Central Register a minimum of 5 years. More serious reports may be retained for 20 or 50 years.
 - b. If the report is unfounded, all identifying information concerning this report will be removed from the Department's files according to a schedule specified in 89 Ill. Admn. Code 431, Confidentiality of Personal Information of Persons Served by the Department.
3. Who Can Get Information from the State Central Register. The Department's State Central Register is not available to the public. However, employers or prospective employers of people who work with children can get information from the State Central Register. In addition, categories of people listed in the Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act, 325 ILCS 5/11.1, which includes law enforcement personnel, physicians, and officials responsible for licensing people in professions that involve working with children, have access to the information kept on the State Central Register. This information can include whether you are listed on the State Central Register as being responsible for child abuse or neglect.
4. Effect of Being Listed on the State Central Register. The fact that you have been indicated as a perpetrator of child abuse and neglect and are therefore listed on the State Central Register may affect whether you will be able to obtain and maintain employment or a license needed to work with children, such as a license to operate a day care home.
5. Appeal. You may appeal the Department's decision to indicate you as a perpetrator of child abuse and neglect through the Department's administrative appeal process. This appeal will be before a neutral administrative law judge. Information about how to do this will be given to you in the event you are indicated.
6. Juvenile Court and Criminal Court Cases. An administrative appeal is different from a juvenile court case or a criminal court case. If you wish to appeal DCFS' indicated finding, you should file an appeal even if a juvenile court or criminal court case is pending.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYED CHILD CARE WORKER

1. Who is a "child care worker"? Child care workers include employees who work directly with children, or owners/operators of facilities regardless of whether the facility is licensed by the Department of Children and Family Services. Types of facilities include:

- Child Care Institution
- Child Welfare Agency
- Day Care/Night Care Center

Persons actively engaged in the job placement process as a child care worker, a person currently enrolled in an academic program which leads to a position as a child care worker, or a person who has applied for a license required for a child care worker position. A person shall qualify as a career entrant only if, at the time of notice of investigation, that person (1) has applied or will apply, within 180 days, for a position as a child care worker; (2) is enrolled in or will commence, within 180 days, an academic program which leads to a position as a child care worker; or (3) has applied for a license as a child care worker. If you qualify under this section as a child care worker, you must tell the Child Protection Service Worker as soon as possible and provide documentation or other evidence of qualification as a child care worker.

Persons employed in one of the above settings or persons seeking employment, enrolled in an academic program or applying for a license for a child care position who are alleged to be responsible for child abuse or neglect outside of their employment. If the investigation relates to your personal life, but you are a child care worker in one of the above settings, an indicated finding may affect your employment and any license you hold that allows you to work with children. In that case, you may request an Administrator's Teleconference and still retain the right to appeal an indicated finding. You must tell the Child Protection Service Worker that you want the investigation to be treated as an employment-related investigation which means that you would receive a Notice of Intent to Indicate, an opportunity for an Administrator's Teleconference and an opportunity for an expedited hearing as outlined below.

2. Notice of Intent to Indicate. The Department will notify "child care workers" of its intention to indicate a report.
3. Administrator's Teleconference. Before the decision to indicate is made, you have the opportunity to request a telephone conference with a Child Protection Administrator who has not been involved in the investigation. Further information about the telephone conference will be provided to you in the Notice of Intent to Indicate in the event the Department intends to indicate you as a perpetrator of child abuse and/or neglect.
4. Expedited Appeal Hearing. In addition to the Administrator's Teleconference, you may also request an expedited appeal hearing. Further information about the expedited hearing also will be provided to you with the Notice of Intent to Indicate in the event the Department intends to indicate you as a perpetrator of child abuse and/or neglect.
